MIXOLOGY

BY FORBES // WITH CHRIS ADAMS

Early in his career, Chris Adams was given the opportunity to be trained by a Master Bartender. He was taught to be technically sound in the art and chemistry of Mixology and taught to understand the intangible feelings guests have as a connection with each drink. Having in depth knowledge of all the elements being used, was only part of the equation. The stories and history behind those elements and pairings, give him the foundation needed to maximize his skills.

The only missing piece was having a method to deliver these experiences to guests. Chris and the Forbes Design Team collaborated to create several design concepts. The result: a unique line of Mixology Carts specifically focused to enhance the presentation of the Mixologist, their tools and ingredients. This presentation is simple and yet practical.

"Mixology for me, is no longer simply about cocktails, it is creating a 360-degree experience".

Built-In Everything The Mixology Carts are designed with functionality in mind. Top tier models are available with all the bells and whistles. This could include adjustable gallery rails, extending speed rails, built in garnish and drip trays, storage for liquor, mixology tools, crushed and large format ice, a glass rinser and so much more!

Three Top Configuration Options Depending on your needs, we provide three configuration options for the top.

Customizable Cold Storage Designed for the experienced user, our insulated Mixology Carts accepts standard size food pans. This allows for the Mixologist to organize their ingredients. If items need to stay cold and not wet, it separates them from the ice. At arm's length, larger pans for either crushed or large format ice can be swapped out easily.

Multiple Price Points Each design is offered at multiple price points to ensure you get the Mixology Cart you desire at a price point that fits your budget.

Boosted Social Media Presence With all the hype around social media presence, Mixology Carts are sure to create those special one of a kind post worthy moments that everyone will want a piece of.

ROI Professional Mixologists thrive on creating unique experiences for their guests. These carts are perfect for taking the show directly to the customer. The Mixology Cart is an income generating machine on wheels!

BUILT-IN GLASS RINSER

Built-In Glass Rinser...

Executive and elite models are available with a built-in glass rinser which is essential for protecting the flavor and integrity of your beverage by keeping glasses clean. With ease of use in mind, just press your glass down on the spring activated platform to dispense water as needed. One compartment houses fresh water while the excess gray water flows into a separate compartment to avoid cross contamination. This ensures a perfect drinking experience and a professional presentation.

CUSTOMIZABLE COLD STORAGE

Mix, Match, Make It Your Own...

The unique design of the Mixology Cart work surface was designed to deliver a truly unique operator experience. The insulated top tray design was engineered to fit standard size food pans. Customize your setup with several inserts, height options, and movable dividers. Additionally, we took the liberty to size the work surface to be able to accept standard food pan sizes for dry storage. Keep additional pans under the countertop stocked and ready to swap on the fly allowing for minimal down time and maximum ROI.
